

TELMEX Awards Contract to Intello Technologies ('Intello') for the delivery of high speed wireless Internet systems across the country.

Montreal, Canada, September 19, 2007 – Intello, a leading provider of internet access management solutions, announced today that Telmex, the leading telecommunications service provider in Mexico, has selected Intello a contract to deliver wireless Internet turnkey solution across the country. Intello was selected amongst several bidders invited to respond to a global Request For Proposal.

Under this contract, Intello will complement Telmex's telecommunications offer to its clientele. One major area to address is the hospitality industry where hundreds hotels, resorts, and other public areas will be equipped with wireless access points which can be used by guests or visitors. In addition to providing the wireless Internet equipment and software solutions, Intello will provide support to Telmex's specialists and also provide 24 hours, 365 days a year, technical support to guest users.

With demand for Internet access growing, Telmex and its customers will take advantage of Intello solutions and will bring affordable high speed wireless services to areas where the existing cable infrastructure hardly supports high speed Internet or simply because the budget figures are too expensive.

Robert Marcoux, President of Intello, commented, "We are pleased that Telmex has selected us for our turnkey solutions, and look forward to continued close cooperation. The trust of organizations like Telmex was a key factor for us in our decision to open an office in Mexico City. The potential of this contract will allow us to create jobs both in Mexico and Canada, and will solidify our position as a leader in wireless systems markets. We are also pleased to mention the contribution of the government of Quebec with their R&D tax credit program which allowed Intello to develop leading software and solutions which are now being exported. The financial program of Investment Quebec associated with the R&D tax credit also contributed to our success and made possible the business we now have with Telmex."

About TELMEX (www.telmex.com)

Telmex is the leading telecommunications company in Mexico. TELMEX and its subsidiaries provide a wide range of telecommunications services, data and video transmission and Internet access, as well as integrated telecommunications solutions to its corporate customers. Additionally, it offers telecommunications services through its international subsidiaries in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia and Peru.

About INTELLO (www.intello.com)

INTELLO is a leading wireless Internet access management software company based in Canada and offering its services and solutions in nine countries. The company offers wireless Internet access management turnkey solutions and digital signage with Web-based content management systems to more than 600 establishments. Intello provides wireless Internet access, network monitoring, and customer support to more than 60 000 rooms in the hospitality industry.